CONCERT LAST EVENING.

A fair audience numerically, and very select in its make-up, grected the Choral Society at the opera house last evening, and those who staid away missed one of the richest treats of the season in the line of entertainments. The choruses were sung with excellent taste and great power, receiving the hearty plaudits of the audience. The selections in this part of the programme showed good faste on the part of the Professor, and the rendition of the pieces could hardly be improved upon. The quartette, "Come in the Blush of Morning," was rendered with much spirit and entire propriety, and elicited hearty opplause. The duct, "Voices of the Night," is sung by Misses Bowers and Shellabar-The quartette, "Sunrise," is a piece of decided merit, and its rendition by Miss Grunendike, Mrs. Adams, and Messrs

Samuel and Caldwell, was in a happy

a beautiful piece, and was charmingly

The solo, "When the Tide Comes In," was given by D. L. Bunn, Esq., with east; appeal-two cases. Dismissed by his usual spirit and effectiveness. Mr. Bunn has a voice of rare richness and compass, which found full play in the R. Co; assumpsit. Dismissed by plaintiff. | performance of this gem of a song. A tumultuous encore fellowed this piece, which brought the performer "to the front" again, and the audience could hardly be satisfied with its repetition.

The trio, "Come to the Sea," render ed by Misses Smith and Bowers, and Mr L. L. Feiris, was well performed. These voices were happily adapted to each other, and each was under good control. The piece, as given by them, produced a charming effect.

The instrumental duet, by the Misses Green, was sweet beyond description, and evinced a degree of skill and culture in manipulating the piano that is exceed ingly rare.

The quartette, "The Sea hath its Pearls," is a beautiful song, and when we say it was song by Miss Smith. Mrs. Adams, and Messrs. Wessels and Bunn, it is tantamenut to saying that it was well done. The last two words taken in their fullest significance express it ex

The duet, "O'er the Hill, O'er the Dale," by Mistresses McComas and Adams, took the house by storm, and a persistent encore called them out a secand time. The song itself is a taking one, and its rendition by these ladies could not well be excelled.

The solo, "Waiting," was sung by Mrs. Lake with peculiar sweetness and force, so enchanting the audience that the performer was obliged to respond to an encore.

Much might justly be said in praise of the entertainment as a whole, and of the individual performers, but we contenourselves by saying that all the pieces were sung with a skill and force tha would do credit to professionals, and Prof. Lutz and those under his instruc tion are entitled to much praise for their efforts to elevate the standard of vocal music in the city.

POLICE NEWS.

Patrick: Blee, an old soffender, was seen beastly drunk last evening lying across the Illinois Central Railroad track, near Lintner's pump factory .-Officer Tucker was notified of the fact and he at once repaired to the spot and hauled the inebriate off the track. Only a few mements afterwards a train rushed by over the track whereon the drunkard had lain. The officer had come just in time to save his life. Shea was soon afterwards taken into Justice Hughes' court. The prisoner was, as usual, penniless, and he begged piteously, saying that if he was released he' would leave the city immediately to return no more The Justice, however, was unyielding, and he told Shea that he thought it would be better to have him locked up in the calabogse than to let him come so near to death as he did last evening .-

The Glue and Soap-Grease Factory is running full blast every day, and using up more bones and carcasses than it is possible for an energetic young lunuci to collect. The slaughter-house yards have been cleared of their bones and dead animals for the use of this factory, which promises much good in that it furnishes a market for dead animals and bones. It will act as a scavenger for the city. The factory, situated as it is on an unfrequented road, and far removed from every house, is a source of annoyance to no one, and should receive the encouragement of all.

CONCERT LAST EVENING.

A fair audience numerically, and very select in its make-up, grected the Choral Society at the opera house last evening, and those who staid away missed one of the richest treats of the season in the line of entertainments. The choruses were sung with excellent taste and great power, receiving the hearty plaudits of the audience. The selections in this part of the programme showed good taste on the part of the Professor, and the rendition of the pieces could hardly be improved upon.

The quartette, "Come in the Blush of Morning," was rendered with much spirit and entire propriety, and elicited carty ipplause.

The duet, "Voices of the Night," is a beautiful piece, and was charmingly sung by Misses Bowers and Shellabar-

The quartette, "Sunrise," is a piece of decided merit, and its rendition by Miss Grunendike, Mrs. Adams, and Messrs. Samuel and Caldwell, was in a happy

The solo, "When the Tide Comes In," was given by D. L. Bunn, Esq., with his usual spirit and effectiveness. Mr. Bunn has a voice of rare richness and compass, which found full play in the performance of this gem of a song. A tumultuous encore followed this piece, which brought the performer "to the front" again, and the audience could hardly be satisfied with its repetition.

The trio, "Come to the Sea," rendered by Misses Smith and Bowers, and Mr. L. L. Feiris, was well performed. These voices were happily adapted to each other, and each was under good control. The piece, as given by them, produced a charming effect. The instrumental duet, by the Misses

Green, was sweet beyond description, and evinced a degree of skill and culture in manipulating the plane that is exceed ingly rare. The quartette, "The Sea hath its Pearls," is a beautiful song, and whe we say it was sung by Miss Smith, Mrs Adams, and Messrs. Wessels and Bunn it is tantamount to saying that it wa well done. The last two words taken i their fullest significance express it ex actly. The duet, "O'er the Hill, O'er th Dale," by Mistresses McComas ar Adams, took the house by storm, and persistent encore called them out a second time. The song itself is a taking one, and its rendition by these ladies could not well be excelled. The solo, "Waiting," was sung by

Mrs. Lake with peculiar sweetness and force, so enchanting the audience that the performer was obliged to respond to an encore. Much might justly be said in praise of the entertainment as a whole, and of the individual performers, but we content ourselves by saying that all the pieces were sung with a skill and force that would do credit to professionals, and Prof. Lutz and those under his instrucdance, at the Methodist Festival this tion are entitled to much praise for their efforts to elevate the standard of vocal music in the city.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Isaac Hines leaves to-night for Topeka, Kansas, where he is to have a situation in the relling mill about to go into operation at that place.

Judge Greer is having a boulevard placed in front of his residence on West Prairie Street. Mr. A. T. Hill and other denizens of that locality intend soon to follow his example, and this street, lined as it is with fine dwellings, will be one of the handsomest in the city.

Mr. Siegfried Goldstein, a son of J. Goldstein the "organist," who arrived will meet Friday evening for drill, pre- in this city from Germany a short time ago, is learning English under Miss Judd, the German teacher at the high school. Master Goldstein learns rapidly, and surprises many of the school boys by his attempts to speak English.

Prof. S. M. Lutz, who has been so long and pleasantly connected with our musical public, left this morning for Carlisle, Penn., the home of his childhood, where he will remain visiting his relatives and friends for the next three or four months. Mr. L. will return to our city next winter, and teach a class to St. Louis, passing Decatur at 12:30 in singing, and meantime he will be informed of the news in Decatur through the columns of the REPUBLICAN.

POLICE NEWS.

Patrick Shea, an old offender, was seen beastly drunk last evening lying across the Illinois Central Railroad track, near Lintner's pump factory.-

Officer Tucker was notified of the fact,

and he at once repaired to the spot and hauled the inebriate off the track. Only a few moments afterwards a train rushed

by over the track whereon the drunkard had lain. The officer had come just in time to save his life. Shea was soon afterwards taken into Justice Hughes' court. The prisoner was, as usual, pen-niless, and he begged piteously, saying that if he was released he would leave the city immediately to return no more.

The Justice, however, was unyielding,

and he told Shea that he thought it would be better to have him locked up near to death as he did last evening.-

And so, after many tearful entreaties

the penitent inebriate was escorted to the calaboose, where he will remain for Great Popularity.—Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and True Flavoring Extracts, Nectarine, Rose, Lemon, etc., have been before the public many years, and have gained for themselves, on their own merits, an extensive sale. Their great popularity is mainly due to the scrupulous manner in which they are prepared, the using of the purest and best materials, with special reference to their healthfulness. We never tire of using them, for they are always the same. 'Atticles in which they are used have no disagreeable odor or sickly taste, but are always enjoyable. dawlw,
